FOR WORKERS CONTROL AND INTERNATIONAL SOCIALISM

MARCH 16 Vietnam mobilisation

IS members and supporters report to main IS banner in Hyde Park to the left of Speakers' Comer at 1 pm sharp. Bring your branch banners and posters. Keep together. March through Grosvenor Square with arms linked. NO ARRESTS!

Dagenham workers collecting their strike pay. The success of the dispute depends on the rank and file's ability to control the negotiations

EAT IN PF

LSE students expose 'get tough' plans

From MARTIN SHAW
STUDENTS at the London School of Economics, who occupied the main building from Monday to Wednesday in opposition to new legal victimisation, have come across an important secret document.

It is a set of minutes of the meetings of the Standing Committee of the court of Governors held throughout February. It seems that:

1. The Governors wanted LSE to try on February 19 to have students under injunctions committed for contempt of court—that is sent to jail for speaking at the Students From MARTIN SHAW for speaking at the Students Union on the same day.

2. They discussed the possibility that students should be admitted on an annual contract renewed from year to year, presumably so they could refuse to renew a student's contract, rather than bother to expel him contract, rather than bother to expel him.

3. They considered replacing normal disciplinary procedures by arbitrary suspension and 'emergency regulations'.

4. Lord Robbins, chairman of the Standing Committee, suggested the possibility of 'introducing legislation in parliament at an early date to amend the law relating to trespass on premises such as those of the School'.

Make illegal

The last proposal is clearly aimed at re-defining trespass to make illegal all student sit-ins, occupations and direct action.

It would be an attempt to place legal shackles on students just as the government is now trying to take away workers' rights. The difference could be that students would lose all real rights to defend their interests. Such a law could be more restrictive than even In Place of Strife. This proposed legal repression threatens all students.

students.

LSE students may not now be in a position to win the battle against such measures battle against such measures in their college. The occupation vote by the union against the legal charges of malicious damage, brought last Friday against two lecturers and 10 students for their part in removing LSE's 'prison gates', was largely unsuccessful.

It was called in support of

to back page

EDITORIAL

THE FORD STRIKE is at the crossroads. The outcome of the dispute is of vital significance for all sections of the labour movement. At stake is the whole question of power and control in the factories and the unions.

The management tried to bring in penalty clauses in an effort to prevent unofficial strikes. The Engineers and Transport Workers unions, tailing behind the rank and file who came out on strike, declared the strike official.

Ford attempted to use the courts against the unions. but the law as it stands just couldn't be bent that far to help them. This legal set-back, together with the government's White Paper on trade unions, is certainly going to herald a vicious attack on militant workers. The aim of the operation will be to soften up public opinion before passing new legislation to shackle the Government cooperation

For example, agreements may be made legally binding. This would have meant that the workers at Ford could have been faced with a binding agreement which they had never even seen!

and Productivity. Indeed the 'secret memorandum' of the management (extracts of which were published in Socialist Worker last week) was drawn up in consultation with Barbara Castle's Department. Already there has been much co-operation between the Ford management and the Department of Employment and Productivity. Indeed the 'secret memorandum' of the

The Ford fight is political, a fight against the type of proposals the Castle White Paper foresees. The aim of the proposals is to shackle the unions, and to transfer all power away from the shop floor to the hands of full-time union officials, who will not be subjected to day-to-day pressures from the men they are actually supposed to represent.

Ford shows that if the rank and file move, the union bureaucracies will split in opposite directions. There are men like Mark Young and Les Cannon of the Electricians Union, or Les Kealey who are violently opposed to militant shop floor action. There are others like Hugh Scanlon and Jack Jones whose strength derives from the rank and file itself.

Within the TCWU, the strike action of the rank and file led to a shake-up and the dismissal of Les Kealey, one of the union bosses who rose to power in the late 1950s. The union has a peculiar structure, with 12 separate divisions, all almost self-governing. These groups (in chemicals, rubber, docks etc) are generally run by survivors of the right-wing Deakin period. Getting rid of Kealey can and must herald a shake-up of the entire union structure of the TGWU.

Scanlon and Jones have supported the Ford workers, but their position often leads them to act in a vacillating or confused fashion. For example, the AEF and TGWU are already involved in four agreements which have provision for penalties in the event of unofficial strikes.

Hereford, with Swan Hunter, at the Continental Oil refinery at Liverpool 3.

Immingham, and with the Upper Clyde Shipbuilders (see story

The AEF has also accepted many productivity deals which involve the selling of workers' conditions—for instance the introduction of Measured Day Work, one of the more barbarous forms of productivity dealing, at Rootes, Linwood.

The unions have rejected the attempt to cripple the right to strike at Ford. They must fight now to reverse the deals negotiated elsewhere. The rank and file cannot rely on anyone to do the job for them. The only guarantee they have is their own strength and organisation. One of the main features of the Ford strike so far is how localised it has been. If a settlement can't be reached the strike must be spread.

The AEF and the TGWU must act as the massive bastions of working class strength they are and bring out other workers—like dockers and delivery drivers—if necessary. The Ford workers are fighting a battle which affects the whole of the organised working class. It is only right to expect other sections of the class to support them, especially those in their own unions.

One thing is clear. There can be no sell out. Penalty clauses are either included in any settlement or they are excluded.

There is no possible compromise here. The officials negotiating can under no circumstances accept any penalty arrangements without completely betraying the workers they represent.

It is essential that there should be no secret deals and no top-level settlements without shop stewards being involved. In particular, the National Joint Negotiating Committee, consisting of union officials from the 15 unions who have members at Ford, has shown the danger of officials. taking decisions on behalf of the shop floor. The NJNC must be smashed.

Mass meetings vital

Leaflets and propaganda on a massive scale are required in order to consolidate support and to spread feeling for the workers who are on strike. Mass meetings are a vital way of keeping in touch with everyone who is involved.

A further point of great importance is the need for link-ups between shop steward committees, not only regionally and nationally but also internationally. The Ford Motor Co is a giant international capitalist firm. It has factories throughout Western Europe and it has stated that its future developments will be made with an eye on the 'labour situation'.

In other words the company will try to divert production to areas where workers are unorganised or unwilling to fight

Only by fighting together can the rank and file safeguard their conditions and win the struggle at Ford. In the long run it will be the workers relying on nobody but themselves who will be able to assert working class interests against those of the capitalist system.

SEND YOUR SUPPORT

penalties in the event of unofficial strikes.

Messages of solidarity with Ford stewards to: 28B New Road, Dagenham, Essex, or Transport House, Islington,

THE FIGHT is really on. The battles at Ford, Injection Moulders, Vauxhall and Ivy Bridge show that more and more sections of rank and file workers are taking action against the bosses and their Labour government.

Social to Worker to proper worker to proper workers are taking action against the bosses and their Labour government.

Social to Worker to proper work to proper workers are taking action and reputation for its proper work as well as and such swindles as measured day work and time and motion study.

But we're not satisfied. We want a bigger and better paper. We want all militant workers to feel that Socialist Worker is their paper, fighting with them for workers' power.

We hope to produce a sixpage paper later this year. That needs money. We want a more streamlined organisation for the paper, its print shop and the headquarters of the International Socialists. That needs money, too.

ONE ROOF THE FIGHT is really on. The

ONE ROOF

In the next few weeks we hope to house our print shop, editorial offices and IS HQ under one roof. We want to be completely free from commercial printers, but that means buying our own folding and cutting equipment.

And to produce a six-page paper we will need another small printing press and a second typesetting machine.

The initial outlay in rent, rates and the cost of lighting and heating the new premises will put a tremendous strain on our tiny resources. To meet all our commitments and produce a bigger paper, we need to raise £4000 in the next six months.

next six months.

Last year, our readers and supporters raised nearly $10,000. We know times are tough, but the only way to defeat the government and the employers is to build a paper and an organisation that will lead the struggle for workers' power and socialism.

This is urgent. Raise the matter in your IS branches, trade unions, youth groups, factory committees and tenants' organisations. If you factory committees and tenants' organisations. If you want a speaker, let us know. Rush your money to me at Paxton Works, Paxton Road, London N17. All donations will be acknowledged in the paper.

JIM NICHOL

Hyde Park 1nm March via IIS embassy to rally in

A novelist explodes the myth that writers are well paid and suggests a controversial way for them to get more money

A penny at the library -is this the only way to help struggling authors?

IT IS POPULARLY assumed that any author known at all is making thousands a year. As the late Dorothy Parker used to say, Wouldnibbe nice?

There are best-selling authors, to be sure, who do make thousands a year. Ian Fleming in one field was pretty rich, so was Somerset Maugham in another.

Romance fiction and crime fiction are the chief moneyspinners, and, of course, sensational sex—in so far as it's possible to be 'sensational' nowadays, when Lady Chatterley reads almost like a Sunday-school nrize

Chatterley reads almost like a Sunday-school prize, relatively speaking . . .

But that a handful of best-selling authors are doing nicely (and good luck to them in our competitive, capitalist society!) doesn't alter the fact that professional authors, i.e. those who live entirely by writing are a dving breed.

ricting, are a dying breed.

An anonymous survey conducted recently by the Society of Authors (anonymous in that we didn't have to give our names) showed that something like only one in ten authors made a thousand a year.

NO CRITERION

The fact that they were well-known, old-established, and had a good following, was no criterion of large sales—for the simple reason that though the were widely lead they were widely bought, and libraries buy the minimum of copies they can get by with—the of the long waiting lists all in demand.

And, of course, this library readership profiteth

all in demand.
And, of course, this library readership profiteth the author nothing. Not even the royalty on the sale of books by the publisher to the libraries, in many cases, because librarians very often buy review copies from agents who have in turn bought them cheap from reviewers—who cheap from reviewers-who had them for nothing.

Private libraries, such as Harrods, sell books at half price ex-libris, and this again brings the author nothing because they are library copies, so the author is doubly cheated.

A.P.Herbert has been batt-ling for years to get a Public Lending Right bill through parliament, to give the author

SOCIALIST WORKER is the paper of International Socialism, a move-who believe that the present form of society, with its blatant in-equalities, its periodic crises, wars and racialist hysteria must be replaced by one based on a of revolutionary socialists

by ETHEL MANNIN

a small royalty on the number of his titles stocked by public libraries.

of ms titles stocked by public libraries.

Before A.P.Herbert there was John Brophy, who proposed a penny charge on every book borrowed—this penny, which came to be known as 'Brophy's Penny', to go to the author.

The objection of many people to the PLR proposal is that it requires the already over-taxed public to 'subsidise' the author. The objection to 'Brophy's Penny' is that it cuts across the whole idea of free public libraries ...though no one objects to paying for no one objects to paying for radio and TV licences (or do they?) or for seats at cinemas, they?) or for seats at cinemas, theatres, concerts.

In our crazy capitalist society it seems that people are prepared to pay for any and everything—even to be buried!—but not for their reading matter.

My own view is that everything should be free—cinemas, theatres, public transport, housing, the lot, because money is nonsense, and production should be for use, not profit. But so long as we live within a money system, we live within a money system, to each according to his need to each according to his need has to apply in terms of moneyit is part of the general barbarism of the system.

And so long as authors are not deriving any material gain from the library use of their work they are, quite simply, being defrauded.

The cost of books is high because the cost of production is, and keeping authors' royalties and advances down is part of the business of keeping down the cost of production.

Everything goes up in the EDITORIAL 657a High Road Tottenham London N17 telephone 01-808 2879

BUSINESS Paxton Works Paxton Road London N17 telephone 01-808 4847

Editor Roger Protz Editorial Committee Paul Foot Richard Kuper Constance Lever Laurie Flynn book trade except payment to those without whom there would be no books, that is, the authors.

Because books cost more fewer people buy them so the authors, whose royalties are on a percentage basis, don't on a percentage basis, don't benefit by the higher prices, but, on the contrary lose, because their readers resort to borrowing from the libraries instead of buying.

Until something is done to secure authors some sort of royalties on library borrowings, the highpulal royalty state-the biannual royalty statements sent them by their publishers can only be accompanied by cheques which steadily diminish as the cost of books steadily rises.

of books steadily rises.

At present nothing is more depressing to an author than to have someone say, cheerfully, 'I see you've got a new book out. I've got my name down for it at the library...'

And it is something people are always saying to authors. Not that people are to be blamed for borrowing books rather than buying them, the price of books being what they are. It's all a vicious circle.

ATTACK

In the controversy which followed Michael Holroyd's massive attack on our beloved Minister for Culture and the Arts, Miss Jennie Lee in The Times Saturday Review recently, a librarian wrote in to say that if authors couldn't make a living at writing books to say that if authors couldn't make a living at writing books let them earn their living in some other way—no one asked them to write books ... overlooking the fact that but for authors he wouldn't be there as a librarian.

Overlooking too the simple

Overlooking, too, the simple basic fact that we all have to basic fact that we all have to do what we're most fitted for.

No one tells the teachers or the car workers, when they are dissatisfied with the returns for their labours, that no one asks them to teach or work in car factories, and if they're not satisfied let them go and earn their livings in some other way.

But authors, we know, make thousands a year. Well, wouldnibbe nice if it were true? Wouldnibbe!

As things are we'd do a

As things are we'd do a whole lot better being cabinet ministers or even members of parliament. Only until the next General Election they're full up at the Washington Gos oduction.

Everything goes up in the Gas Works, unfortunately.

Vietnam: the war and

The solidarity movement in Britain has mobilised large numbers of people. IAN BIRCHALL says we must not restrict them to a single-issue campaign...

'Tan Hiep ... had a school and a church, neat houses and gardens, pigs andwater buffalo, a useful irrigation system, and a population of more than 2,000 people.

'Last night Tan Hiep was 'Last night Tan Hiep was utterly destroyed ... by United States F-100 bombers and Vietnamese Skyraiders. Just before dark the jets dropped napalm into the hamlet followed by high explosive. Everything was either burned or blasted.' (Guardian, February 28, 1969).

IN SPITE OF the bombing halt, in spite of the talks in Paris, the real war in Vietnam, the war on the ordinary people, goes on.

Since the beginning of the Kremlin last year it has been clear that the US in Vietnam are budget would be reduced by beaten, militarily politically.

Morale among American troops gets lower and lower. Pot smoking and alcoholism are rife. There is a whole Pot smoking and alcoholism are rife. There is a whole colony of deserters in Cholon, and recently an American negro was killed fighting for the National Liberation Front. Corruption and inefficiency are so widespread in the South Vietnamese administration and armed forces that talk of 'handing over' to them is no more than a piece of tired rhetoric.

Nixon's new line

The new Nixon government is anxious to come to terms with Russia and China. Nixon himself, once a hard-line anti-communist, wrote in Foreign Affairs (October 1967), 'We cannot afford to leave China forever outside the family of

The question is not really whether the US gets out of Vietnam, but when and how.

Here economic factors become important. 'Defence' in the United States employs, directly or indirectly, over seven and a half million people. Annual military expenditure amounts to nearly $2000 for every American family.

NIXON sympathy in and budget would be reduced by $15 to $20,000 million (about a fifth of the total).

$15 to $20,000 million (about a fifth of the total).

Here Nixon can expect sympathy and understanding from his comrades in the Kremlin. The New York Times of January 27 reported on a meeting of top Russian and American diplomats:

'Perhaps most surprising were the hints given at the Westchester Country Club that the Soviet Union would welcome some continued American military presence in South Vietnam after conclusion of a political settlement in Paris.'

So Nixon will play a waiting game, continuing the peace talks, while trying to gain concessions through Moscow (and possibly Peking).

A sign of his double-faced strategy is the appointment as negotiators to the Paris talks of Henry Cabot Lodge, personal friend of Air Marshall Ky, and Marshall Green, former ambassador to Indonesia, and man behind the scenes in the murder of half a million Indonesian communists in 1965.

Continue the struggle in the United States employs, directly or indirectly, over seven and a half million people. Annual military expenditure amounts to nearly $2000 for every American family.

US capitalism would benefit from a withdrawal from Vietnam—providing it is not too quick and not too complete.

Business Week of July 27, 1968, calculates that if 50 to 100,000 troops remain in South

MINISTRUCTION TO THE French defeat any military machine. The French defeat in Vietnam was a major factor in sparking off the Algerian revolution.

A US withdrawal from Vietnam will inspire popular movements from Bolivia to the Philippines, from Mozambique to Thailand.

This does not mean that from Committee to Guatemala, from the Dominican Republic to Chicago, the US has shown that they made in Vietnam.

that it 'understands' nothing but brute force. Our solidarity with the

Our solidarity with the Vietnamese people must continue to be whole hearted and unconditional. Big demonstrations, like the one planned for this Sunday in London must go on for this Sunday in London must go on.

At the same time, however, it is important to go beyond the slogans and try to see the Vietnamese revolution in a world political context.

We support the Vietnamese revolution because it has the support of the mass of the people in South Vietnam. No guerrilla movement can survive without this popular supportas Che Guevara discovered in Bolivia.

without this popular supportas Che Guevara discovered in Bolivia.

It is, moreover, a revolution independent of the power blocs of East and West. Russia has tanks to spare for Czechoslovakia, but little more than words and outdated equipment for Vietnam.

China's 'Cultural Revolution' has led to trainloads of arms for Vietnam being captured for use in internal fighting(see the Financial Times, November 13,1968).

But the Vietnamese revolution is not a socialist revolution. The programme of the NLF appeals to 'Rich people, soldiers, workers, peasants, intellectuals, employees, trades, youth, women.' When, in 1945 and 1946, after the defeat of the Japanese, propertyless peasants seized the land, it was Ho Chi Minh's leadership that punished them.

Revolution goes on Vietnamese are fighting for the right to control their own country. But the withdrawal of US troops will be the beginning, not the end of the Vietnamese revolution.

ution.

A victory for the Vietnamese, however, will be concrete proof that popular forces can defeat any military machine. The French defeat in Vietnam was a major factor in sparking off the Algerian revolution.

A US withdrawal from Vietnam will inspire popular movements from Bolivia to the Philippines, from Mozambique to Thailand.

This does not mean that industr

the Ne

in wor

wage : be wh

cost o

ROGE

The

WO

I WOT

Prod deals: attack on sh

CHRIS DAVISON's article (February 22) clears up many misconceptions about the fight against productivity deals. But because of the variations in work from one industry to another, it is not possible to lay down a formula that can simply be applied in any circumstances.

What has to be recognised is that productivity deals, however formulated, directly attack the shop or factory organisation. They are the employers' attempt to regain control in order to impose the conditions that their profit margins demand.

The demands that answer the employers' offers must be posed so that the workers are apposed so that the workers are appon against the bosses' tonditions of work. Demarcation can be seen to protect your job while at the analysis of the same time respecting someone else's. At the same to open the conditions that their profit margins demand.

The demands that answer the employers' offers must be posed so that the workers are appon against the boss is a weapon against the boss is own conditions of work. Demands like no redundancy, shop stewards to be at the centre of negotiations, rank and file ballots etc. expose the management's intentions more clearly than a demand for extra money.

Control over conditions is Control over conditions is control over conditions is the control over conditions is control over conditions is control over conditions of work. Demands like no redundancy is shop stewards to be at the control over in a shop, factory or indeed any place of work is and file ballots etc. expose the management's intentions more clearly than a demand for extra money.

Control over conditions is control over conditions of work. Demands like no redundancy is control over conditions of work. Demands like no redundancy is control over conditions of work. Demands like no redundancy is control over the conditions of work. Demands like no redundancy is control over the conditions o white workers must unite and form their own defence organisations to fight fascism and racialism. The labour movement must demand the immediate recall of British troops from abroad as the first step towards ending colonial exploitation. The task of revolutionary socialists is to join workers in their struggles Redundancy should be with socialist ideas that will link out of the demand: five up the various sections of the vortice days pay. Shop labour movement and help create whith the demand: five up the various sections of the labour movement and help create. Tea breaks, for example, workers in exactly the same way.

Workers, even stewards, are not always sufficiently aware of the dangers of selling their conditions. Often they are able to con the boss and sell out ated practices or imaginary conditions.

This is easy enough in the first round of productivity negotiations since the bosses may not have been in effective control for years. But even control for years. But even these deals have their dangers.

Workers can become over-confident and treat productivity deals with contempt. At the same time they may be lulled into a general acceptance of deals, while the employer Hill's Gener 1st) a discus Ce thinks means down ought the pa negat planned economy under full workers' control; those who produce the wealth should own and control the means of production.

International Socialism is opposed to any incomes policy that seeks to restrict the wages of the workers in order to boost the profits of the employers. We unconditionally support all shop stewards and rank and file trade union members in their struggles for better wages and conditions and oppose all reactionary laws that threaten the

Business Manager Jim Nichol

mand of no victimisation of trade unionists. Redundancy should be opposed with the demand: five up the various sections of the

We are opposed to racial discrimi-fluence by linking up on an in dustrial and ultimately a national nation, a weapon used by the ruling class to divide the labour movement. Immigration control must be ended, ensuring the free movement of peoples regardless of race and colour. Black and white workers must unite and form

e British workers countries by the fact of Vietnam to advanced es as well. lacing Nixon mmed up in of January ill be ready ly' offer in al sacrifice andon their trol for a will quickly

once con-regained.

London N4

n and introl back Ross the next ggestion for columns.

yone who sm is based entrol of the ion will not unist Party agree with will be

Vietnam

of the bomtpansion of ed into the Action Committees in ite a new, that played a central role in sunday's Vietnam march.

October 27:majority were against capitalism last summer's general strike. In Britain, Vietnam has been a major issue for educating and mobilising the student

Hysterical

the the fact tham and off the campus...It could make the country virtually ungovernable.'

Vietnam

A campaign that restricts itself to Vietnam alone may well find that the leadership are a long way behind the rank and file.

The war in Vietnam may end. The war in Britain, in the factories and estates, continues.

continues.

It is a quieter, less dramatic war, but for the future of humanity it is just as vital.

floor organisation

or organisation

and of advanced sections of the working class here, such as the occupations at Ford, Armstrong Patents and the question of control of the means of production in the most concrete manner.

Let's face it—the demolition job has already been done by the Labour-Tory policies of successive governments, culminating in the open attacks of the White Paper on trade unionism. This is shown by the high abstention rate in past by-elections and the failure of the mass of the workers to switch to the Tories—hence their hysterical attempts to buy votes by appealing to the Powellite layer of an ex-imperialist nation.

To meet this new situation, and to progress from it, a new type of electoral activity may be needed: the Electoral Strike.

If workers who live away, or everyone could take the day as themselves when it comes to promotion.

In spite of the efforts of the medical schools and governments of India and Pakistan to popularise the specialist post-post-graduate degrees issued there, the any stique of qualifications from the old colonising power remains.

Slum hospitals

There is also a very real feeling among those who come here that they will gain the opportunity of working in a more technically advanced medical environment. This is true for a fortunate few.

But for many, their illusions will be left to wilt in bleak geriatric wards, buried in slum hospitals.

When the workers stop every thing stops.

Such action might also demonstrate will be left to wilt in slum hospitals.

When the workers stop every thing stops.

Such action might also demonstrate the contradiction between the workers to switch to the simulaneously show where it comes to the ways and peak stant to popularise the specialist post-post-graduate and workers despecially of working in a more technically advanced more technically advanced more technically advanced more technically advanced to the popularise the

To meet this new situation, and to progress from it, a new type of electoral activity may be needed: the Electoral Strike. This could take forms depending on the local situation. For example during the hustings discussion meetings could be held in working hours during which workers of all tendencies could soapbox (and perhaps candidates and to taking their democracy seriously.

If we are concerned about developing 'Left unity' in action, discussion on our attitude to the next General Election should indeed start now:-PAUL ROBERTSHAW, Canterbury.

nd perhaps candidates and ion officials might be asked attend!)

On polling day there could please type or write on one side of the paper only. The

Under fire —the men who keep our hospitals running

A LETTER from a consultant surgeon, Mr Nigel Harris, alleging that some overseas doctors working in Britain were unfit to practise, highlighted in a particularly unpleasant way the problems of immigrant doctors in the National Health Service.

The letter which started The letter which started the row was sent to a patient who complained about the treatment he had received from a foreign doctor at St Charles' Hospital in London, where Mr Harris also works.

and mobilising the student movement.

And the Vietnam Solidarity Campaign has succeeded where Herbert Morrison failed. It has killed the British Communist Party.

Anyone who doubts this should read the article 'Unity and the Ultra-left' by Ken Geering in the February 1st issue of Comment, a CP discussion journal.

It seems from the subsequent statement by the hospital management committee that Mr Harris published his comments without bothering to check his facts with deciral records.

Not deterred by minor concerns about accuracy, the doctor concerned or examining the available medical records.

Not deterred by minor concerns about accuracy, sections of the press used the incident as their cue to indulge in a series of slurs against immigrant doctors by generalising from a few specific cases.

It was suggested that both the ability to practise medicine and to communicate in English were lacking in immigrant doctors.

Heavy reliance

It is well known that the Britain. It must tum class.

Placards and banners calling for 'workers' control' are excellent—but they are no substitute for the banners of union branches and shop are still few in numbers on the big demonstrations—fewer, probably, than they used to en on the CND marches.

To win the working class, and post of the big demonstrations—fewer, probably, than they used to en on the CND marches.

To win the working class, the little will be incompetent and the proposed of the proposed of the countries are not post stewards' committeen, which are still few in numbers on the big demonstrations—fewer, probably, than they used to en the CND marches.

To win the working class, the little will be incompeted a form of the proposed of the prop the largest single group of immigrant doctors. More than 4000 work in Britain at the moment.

Most of them come Most of them come for three or four years and then return home when they have taken their higher exams. Some stay on and settle, but for most of them promotion to higher posts is effectively blocked.

Why do they come? It is Why do they come? It is partly a legacy of colonialism. Most of the senior consultants in India and Pakistan who have done their post-graduate training in Britain, favour those with similar degrees as themselves when it comes to skills?

Medical training for the biggest group, Indian and Pakistani, is conducted in English, though initially they often lack a grasp of English idiom and dialect.

Given goodwill on the part of the patients, this would be a minor problem. But all too often patients confronted with a foreign doctor deliberately make themselves difficult to understand, to the embarrassment of one and the detriment of the other.

Press stirs vicious racialist campaign against immigrant doctors

all immigrant doctors by the alleged incompetence of a few is the very essence of racialism.

There is a smaller group of immigrant doctors from countries such as Egypt, Greece and Spain where a very real language difficulty may arise. The medical degrees from these countries are not recognised for practice in Britain but doctors may be issued with temporary registration, which is renewable annually.

Some of these doctors do have difficulty with English. But an Indian doctor has Successive governments have failed to provide the facilities to train enough doctors. There is a smaller group of immigrant doctors from countries such as Egypt, Greece and Spain where a very earl language difficulty may rise. The medical degrees to the modern and the facilities to train enough doctors. The modern and t

Join the International Socialists

FOLKESTONE Dave Cowell c/o 18 Station Rd

BECKENHAM Mervyn Smith 9 Alton Gardens Copers Cope Rd 01 658 6552

BIRMINGHAM Godfrey Webster 128 Yardley Wood Rd B'ham 13 BRADFORD Bob Komreich Flat 1 7 Oak Avenue Bradford 8 BRIGHTON Micky Adams Flat 4 85 St Aubyns Hove

BRISTOL Alan Coe 2 St Michael's Hill Bristol 6 BOLTON F Canavan 11 Sutton Rd Sutton Estate Deane Bolton CAMBRIDGE Peter Smith 65 Glisson Road

CAMDEN Chris Barker 36 Gilden Road NW5 CHERTSEY Chris Wickenden Langmead Pirbright Woking Sy Brookwood 3003

COLCHESTER Ian Noble 12 Coach Rd Arlesford Wivenhoe 272 53 Palmerston Rd Earlsdon

CRAWLEY Deborah Ward 2 Weddell Rd Tilgate CROYDON Jenny Woodhams 26 Braemar Avenue South Croydon DURHAM Pam Law 16 Hartfield View

EAST LONDON Bob Light 2 Oster Tce Southcote Rd E17 EDINBURGH Jim Smith 25 Pitt St(Leith)Edinburgh 6 ENFIELD Gill Pressman 34 The Chine London N21 FULHAM Jackie Taylor 41 Perham Road W14

GLASGOW Ian Mooney 4 Dalcross Passage W1 GRAYS & TILBURY Alf Waters c/o 1 Russell Rd Tilbury Essex HARROW Kevin Simms 56 Salisbury Rd HAVERING Terry Ward 91 Heath Park Rd Gidea Pk HIGHBURY Keith Ellis 8 Archibald Road N7 HORNSEY Valerie Clark 18 Dickinson Rd N8 HULL Paul Gerhardt 52 Freehold Street ILFORD Lionel Sims 99 Belgrave Rd 01 SEV 6991 IPSWICH Malcolm Bezant
45 Melbourne Road
ISLINGTON/ANGEL
D Phillips 2 Chapel Mkt Grant
St N1 01 BRU 1026 KILBURN Sean Dunne 18 Lithos Road NW3 KINGSTON John Owen 4 Sandown Court Esher LAMBETH Andy Smith Flat 6 126 Streatham Hill SW2 LEICESTER Shirley Abrams Flat 3 26 St Albans Road LEEDS Vince Hall Flat 3 25 Bagby Road Leeds 2 LOWESTOFT Paul Welby 173 The Avenue MANCHESTER Jack Sutton 11a Rowan Avenue Walley Range M16 MERSEYSIDE Ross Hill 5 Lothair Rd Anfield L'pool 4 MERTON Fred Milson 119 Wolsey Crescent Morden MIDDLESBROUGH Chris Chard 32 Bedford Terr Billingham

NEWCASTLE Tony Corcoran 26 Lesbury Road NORTHAMPTON Alan Druker 21 Ardington Road NORWICH Gerald Crompton 220 College Road NOR54F OXFORD Dave Peers 21 First Turn

POTTERIES John Whitfield 5 Grosvenor Road Newcastle

READING Miriam Belsey 22 Redlands Rd Reading RICHMOND Peter Glatter 3. Burlington Ave Kew RIPLEY & ILKESTON C Burnett 75 Heage Road Riplev Derbys

SELBY John Charlton 12 Thatch Close Selby Yorks SHEFFIELD J Wilkin 15 Raven Rd Sheffield S7 ISB SOUTHAMPTON John Fisher 144 Thomhill Park Road STEVENAGE Michael Downing 57 Trumper Road Trotts Hill STOCKPORT Geoff Hodgson 73a Forest Range M/C 19 STOKE NEWINGTON Mike McGrath 28 Manor Road N16 SWANSEA Roy Greener 16 Oaklands Tce TOTTENHAM Laurie Flynn 374 High Road N17 WATFORD Paul Russell 61 Carpenders Avenue Carpenders Park

WIGAN Ray Challinor 34 Whiteside Ave Hindley WOLVERHAMPTON Dave Spilsbury 274 Penn Road YORK Bob Looker 22 Hobgate

VICTORIA Tony Dunne 14 Carlisle Mansions Carlisle

Please send further details of the meetings and activities of the international socialists to Address

Clyde men lose jobs guarantee CHALLINOR'S CHOICE

From PETER BAIN (DATA)
GLASGOW:- 11,000 shipyard workers who took part in the one-day strike on February 27 against anti-union legislation, have had their two-year jobs guarantee withdrawn by Upper Clyde Shipbuilders.

The employment safeguard was part of a productivity deal signed last November by all the shipyard unions, except the Boilermakers. Apart from the Draughtsmen's Union, none of the officials reported the details of the package deal to their members.

Youth have something to and work study in for wage increases. beef about

From PAUL WALTON

DURHAM:- The city's first major political demonstration for many years took place on Saturday, when 300 young workers, school children and students took the first step in a campaign initiated by the local International Socialists and demanded a site for a new youth centre.

and demanded a site for a new youth centre.

The background to the demonstration was the constant delay of the local council in building a centre. Eventually the council decided that the only available site was a small piece of grubby earth in the middle of the town.

It seemed that Durham youth

It seemed that Durham youth rears, were to have their centre. But the council had forgotten the 'Freemen' of the city who, on the basis of a 17th century Act, claimed herbage rights' on the land that is the right to graze cattle in the centre of the

The council sheepishly accepted the Freemen's veto. Unless the young people acted, they would have to wait everal months or years before he council found another site.

No sheep

But IS and the newly med Ad-hoc Committee of tham Youth decided they ould not wait until the cows ame home

The Freemen have no rattle and cows have not razed on the land for some fundred years. The council's refusal to fight such blatant toolishness exposed the real sture of local democracy.

The young workers decided act and symbolically occupy the land. The move for a semonstration of force was spurred on when it was learnt that the Freemen had already allowed the Army officers raining corps to use part of the land.

The situation was privilege ersus people or non-existent heep before youth.

Safely grazed

The demonstrators drove heir own pantomime cows to raze on the land. The carn-val atmosphere of the demon-tration matched the laughable osition of the Freemen and

Dozens of town and univ-rsity youth joined together to spose and ridicule their ders and betters, who laced their faith in mythical

The demand for a youth ntre will culminate in a assive demonstration on pril 26 when IS hopes, with the Ad-hoc Youth Committee, to lead hundreds of young cople to not only occupy the reemen's scrub land but to be concrete and brick the bundations for a new youth lab.

Inb.

The land is the people's nd the people shall decide. Is through this kind of direct ction that the foundations re laid for bigger struggles cing the youth of Britain. For more details write to unham Youth Ad-hoc Commutee, 14 The Avenue, Durham ity.

The land is the people's and the people's and the people shall decide. Is through this kind of direct cition that the foundations re laid for bigger struggles cing the youth of Britain. For more details write to undam Youth Ad-hoc Community.

ETU expels

militant

ETU expels

militant

HE Electrical Trades Union as offered a job to sacked GWU official Les Kealey—ah has sacked a Left-wing littant. John Lynch, senior TU shop steward at Cammell aird's shipyard, Birkenhead, as been expelled from the inion. He is the 19th militant, whe chopped in the last year.

Beneral strike on Tuesday to substantial wage increases from the strike was not nearly as widespread or solid as the wave of strikes and factory occupations last May.

One reason is the 'credibitity gap' between workers and the main union federation, the communist CGT. They have been called out many times before on one-day strikes and have achieved little.

Workers can now compare these careful exercises in mass manipulation with the spontaneous actions last summer that threatened the whole system.

There has also been a sustained campaign of victimisation against last May's leading militants, which also accounts for some lack of response on Tuesday.

The BICC employers and the £15 the endeting when the form the strike was a sell-out. The meeting when the ack-to-work decision was taken. Some of the men the fit of the Transport Workers Union who had done nothing to help them while they had been on strike.

They objected to the places on the union council. The occupation motion, too, was voted for by 355 out of the transport workers until price rises had eaten and won six out of eight places on the union council. The occupation motion, too, was voted for by 355 out of the transport workers until price rises had eaten and won six out of eight places on the union council. The occupation of the place of the men to fit was a sell-out. They objected to the procedular that the lack should make representation to be the price to bring in the £15 that the fit was a sel

The officials accepted 'on behalf of' their mem-bers flexibility, interchan-geability, job evaluation and work study in return for wage increases.

Every worker with nine months' continuous service received the employment guarantee. But any men who take part in unofficial action—strikes, overtime bans or working to rule—automatically lose the safeguard.

The UCS management's action has double significance. First, it is another propaganda shot in the bosses' campaign to make sure that the government clamps down on unofficial shop floor action and brings in further legislation against the unions.

Second, the action takes place at a time when it is becoming increasingly accepted that the boom the shipbuilding industry is currently enjoying is likely to be shortlived.

Dished out millions

Dished out millions

The Geddes Report on the industry recognised the sharp intensification of competition ahead, and called for one shipbuilding group on the Clyde.

The government dished out

The government dished out The government dished out millions of pounds of public money to make this monopoly possible for the employers. A further merger, between the Lower and Upper Clyde groups, is now likely. The lower yards would specialise in building tankers while the upper yards went after merchant and naval orders.

A consultant's report commissioned before the formation of UCS last year recommended the closure of Connell's (at present part of UCS), while a merger would result in at least one other yard—probably John Brown's—closing.

The UCS productivity deal, with its restrictions on shop floor control, is an integral part of the bosses' strategy to secure a tighter grip over the workforce and eventually to drastically reduce the number of men employed. A consultant's report com-

Must be fought

The workers who remain will operate under the intensified working conditions accepted by the union officials in the productivity deal.

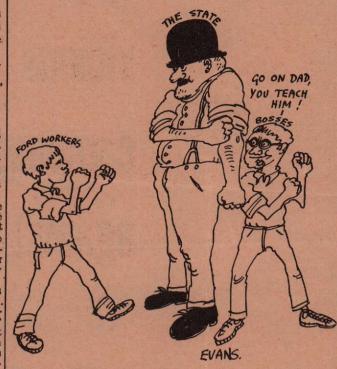

Any agreement that takes away the ability of workers on the shop floor to fight the employers should be opposed.

UCS have achieved this to some extent by dangling big wage increases before workers who, in the past, have had to fight some of the most reactionary employers in the country for every improvement.

Attacks on workers' conditions are on the increase. As at Ford, the demand on Clydeside must be for rank and file control of the unions, with elected stewards conducting all future wage negotiations. negotiations.

French strike not 100%

PARIS, Wednesday: Millions of workers went on a one-day general strike on Tuesday to support demands for subst-

Rootes withdraw toremen-workers Toremen—workers end overtime ban Socialist Worker Reporter LINWOOD, Wednesday:- A mass meeting of car workers at Rootes Scottish plant voted on Tuesday to call off an overtime ban when the management agreed to drop the disruptive tactic of using foremen on the production line. The overtime ban was started at a mass meeting five weeks ago in order to fight the laying-off of men through a dispute at Rootes' Coventry plant. It was kept up during a period of short-term and the court of the disruptive tactic of using five weeks ago in order to fight the laying-off of men through a dispute at Rootes' Coventry plant. It was kept up during a period of short-term and the court of the factory of the management agreed to drop meeting with the factory foremen on the production line. The overtime ban was started at a mass meeting five weeks ago in order to fight the laying-off of men through a dispute at Rootes (Coventry plant, it was kept up during a period of short-term working. The ban was renewed last Wednesday (March 5) when in spite of the factory, it was anticipated that the Coventry of the factory, it was anticipated that the Coventry dispute working in all parts of the factory, it was anticipated that the Coventry dispute work of the day asy work or five days pay of the factory, it was anticipated that the Coventry dispute would again hold up the supply of parts from nex week.

The management, in line with government opposition to all unofficial action taken by an all parts on the shop floor, and cleared a bottleneck over the nightshift on Wednesday is list kiely that their real intention was not to increase in productivity, but to provide a strike.

RICC STRIKERS

The disactive workers was renewed last weeks and nationally must develop the management, in line with government opposition to all unofficial action taken by the workers on the shop floor, and the workers on the shop floor.

The management, in line with government opposition to all unofficial action pass. They put a number of foremen on to the production line at work. The management has once again successfully adaptive workers with the workers on the shop floor.

The management's actions are readmined to the demand for the guaranteed week—five the nightshift on weak and cleared a bottleneck over the nightshift on wednesday in the workers on the shop floor.

The management, in line with government opposition to all unofficial action taken by the supply of parts from next weeks.

The pout a management and the factory workers with the workers on the shop floor.

The management is a long strike last years and cleared a bottleneck over the nightshift on weeks and nationally must develop the nightshift on the factory in the factory in the factor

BICC STRIKERS WIN THEIR DEMANDS

2800 workers at British Insulated Callenders Cables at Prescot and more at Wrexham returned after the management had conceded their demands: 9½d per hour to qualify for premium time

Shop floor representation in future negotiations Negotiations on a £15
the students' demand that LSE

From ROSS HILL totally passive, but the AFTER TWO weeks on strike solidarity of the strike has 2800 workers at British Insul-certainly shaken the manage-

LSE

Militants

to march on Dublin

From SEAN REED

PEOPLE'S DEMOCRACY, the militant organisation that shook the Northern Ireland Tories in the recent elections, is to stage a march from Belfast to Dublin this Easter in support of demands for civil rights in both parts of Ireland.

The march is expected to last five days. Plans were discussed last week at Queen's University, Belfast.

A PD statement issued later said: 'We are opposed to Southern politicians using the Northern situation to direct attention from the failings of their own state.'

The statement stressed that objections to undemocratical stress in the coult of the students' union at the London School of Economics was expelled. Being an American citizen, he was forthwith deported from the country.

His 'offence' was that he sold copies of a journal that contained an article on police spying. It stated 'a retired Indian policeman' kept colonial students at LSE under said: 'We are opposed to Southern politicians using the Northern situation to direct attention from the failings of their own state.'

The statement stressed that objections to undemocratical with a country of the students' union but also banning the journal from the college precincts.

The said irony of

The statement stressed that objections to undemocratic laws in the south—such as anti-strike legislation, the banning of divorce, the prevention of the open sale of contraceptives and the privileged position of the Roman Catholic Church—does not only come from the Tory Unionists in the North.

Ban sit-downs

the rents

The tenants soon realised that debating would get them nowhere, and the meeting ended with demands to refuse to pay the increase.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The tenants soon realised that debating would get them nowhere, and the meeting gives us something to look up to, a model which we should strive to copy.

In which case, the example of Prince Charles is one that workers should find instructive workers should find instructive

BIRMINGHAM Sunday March 16: After St Patrick's Parade, civil rights funeral processionto Ulster

OXFORD: Mike Cooley DATA on student-worker alliance, 8 pm Tues March 18 Buxton Hall Ruskin College. Plus Jim Higgins MANCHESTER IS social at the Garrick, Fountain St (back bar). Fri March 21. With the Greasy Bear Band. 2s 6d, all welcome. MERSEYSIDE IS public meeting on the revolutionary party. 8 pm Sun March 28. Wedding House, Highfield St, off Tithebarn St, Liverpool.

IN DEFENCE OF STRIKES-10 page pamphlet. The background to the government's anti-union laws.
6d each, 5/- dozen from Merseyside IS, 5 Lothair Rd. Liverpool
L4ORL,051-ANF-7685, or IS Book
Service, 90 Mountview Road,
London N4.

Published by the International Socialists, 657a High Road, N17. Printed by Socialist Review Publishing Co. (TU) Ltd.Paxton Works, Paxton Rd, N17. Registered with the OPO.

That liberal tradition at LSE

The sad irony of Stephen Swingler

THE LIFE and death of

THE LIFE and death of Stephen Swingler, MP, former chairman of Victory for Socialism, exemplifies the futility of the Labour Left.

Newspaper obtuaries mention how, since 1964, he became an accomplished government spokesman. A capable and fluent speaker, Swingler deftly defended government measures in parliamer ernment measures in parliament.

This was particularly valuable in the 1964 to 1966 period, when Wilson clung on with a majority of three or four.

'Night after night,' says
The Guardian (20.2.69.) 'he was required to answer backbench (and largely Tory) attacks on individual railway closures—based, ironically, on the policies of the previous government.'

BIRMINGHAM Sunday March 16: After St Patrick's Parade, civil rights funeral processionto Ulster Office, Wellington St for public burning of N.Ireland Special Powers Act.
ACTON Is: meetings every Sunday at 7.80 pm for local trade unionists, White Hart, Willesden High Rd NW10. March 18 Socialist Economics by Tony Cliff.

OXFORD: Mike Cooley DATA on Leave those ga... sorry, constable

Sorry, constable
THE DESTRUCTION of property—it was a hideous sight! There they were, smashing the gates, wrenching them away from the walls.

Before any of you jump to the conclusion that it was those wicked LSE students at it again, let me tell you at once it was the police.

These custodians of capitalist law were merely performing their sacred duty, namely, to help blacklegs to go to work.

Strikers at Warrington Gas works padlocked the gates So the police broke them oper again.

Ray Challinor