STRIKERS KEEP CAR SHOP SHUT;

Hegewisch Workers Meet this Morning

Workmen in the departments of the Western Steel Car Foundry company not on strike were sent home yesterday, because the five hundred striking heaters, riveters, reamers, fitters and steel workers have completely tied up production in the plant.

The strikers held a mass meeting in Ginosky's Hall, 32059 Houston Avenue, where plans were laid to present the demands of the strikers to the company today. A committee of the striking heater boys re-jected offers of the company for a compromise settlement yesterday.

Jack McCarthy, circulation manager of the DAILY WORKER, spoke to the strikers yesterday morning. He urged them to get the other departments out on strike and promised the support of the DAILY WORKER. Mc-Carthy urged the men to join the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, declaring the union would strengthen the strikers.

The strikers held a noon-time shop meeting in front of the gates of the steel company, at which Jack McCarthy and Frank Buckley, industrial organizer of the Young Workers League, were the speakers.

A strikers' mass meeting will be held this morning at which the strike committee will be instructed what demands to make of the company officials when the committee meets with them today. The men are striking because the company tried to put over a 50 per cent reduction of wages. They declare they will not return to work at a cent less than the old rate

What could a genuine Labor government in the United States have accomplished with over $2,000,000,000 at its absolute free disposal?

Missouri Statement

In state convention assembled, the Farmer-Labor Party of Missouri declared in favor of independent political action on the part of the industrial workers and exploited farmers by unanimous vote. The Farmer-Labor Party of Missouri declared on June 8 that a mass-class Farmer-Labor Party was the allimportant matter before the workers. It still believes in and stands upon that declaration.

Since the state convention there have been two national conventions one at St. Paul and the other at Cleveland. LA FOLLETTE'S LABOR RECORD

Phitadelphians Applaud W. P. Candidate

By ABRAM JAKIRA (Special to the Daily Worker.)

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.-Benjamin Gitlow. Workers Party candidate for Vice-President, was given an enthusiastic reception at a mass meeting held in this city last Friday, July

The meeting was called by the Philadelphia Farmer-Labor Party in order to enable the delegates to the St. Paul Convention to report and for the purpose of discussing the latest political developments. Gitlow was one of the speakers. The hall was packed to the doors.

A thunder of applause and cheering rocked the hall when comrade Gitlow was introduced as the Workers Party candidate for Vice-president. All those present rose on their feet and continued to cheer and applaud for several minutes. His eloquent and vigorous speech was likewise met with continuous applause and cheering.

Hits LaFollette Labor Record.

In his speech comrade Gitlow gave a splendid review of the anti-labor record of Coolidge and Davis and of the petty bourgeois character of the LaFollette movement. One cannot recall a single measure introduced by LaPollette in the interests of the working class during his fourty years of public service. He has never even put up a serious fight against injunctions, despite of the fact that he claims to be opposed to injunctions. LaFollette's own state where he is in complete control over the political machine, is well known as an Open Shop stronghold. He spent a good deal of his time in order to get a correct railroad valuation, which to the working class means absolutely noth-

McClurg and Jakira Speak.

Other speakers who addressed the meeting were H. O. McClurg, secretary of the Philadelphia Farmer-Labor Party, who gave a detailed report on the work of the St. Paul Convention, and comrade A. Jakira, who spoke on the role of the Communists at that convention and on the socialist party betrayal. The latter in its official appeal to its membership states—"We are stepping back a pace or two to meet the main army of labor, then to march forward together.' The same argument was given by the socialist parties of various countries ten years ago when the world war broke out. They then retreated "to the main army of labor" and to the camp of the capitalist brigands, but instead of marching "forward together" they have since been seen in continuous retreat. The Communists are the only ones doing the forward marching present miserable conditions in the cloak industry. As a matter of fact they called you out on strike for nothing. They accepted two weeks ago the recommendations of the Governors' Committee and the officials are bargaining behind your backs over an agreement that they intend to sign without your knowledge and consent.

The officials are talking a great deal in the strike halls about a victory for the cloakmakers in this strike. In reality you have won no victory at all but a severe defeat. The union leaders would have you believe that the concessions of the sanitary label to be controlled by the Joint Board of Sanitary Control is a great victory. On the contrary it is a matter of little or no interest to the workers in the industry so long as the union itself does not have the right to investigate the shops and the books of the manufacturers and

The union officials are making much (too) of the un-employment insurance fund which they would like to have you think is a great victory for you, although they themselves know very well that this fund is of practically no value for the cloakmakers as long as the general conditions of the industry remain in their present chaotic state.

Then, there is the demand for a minimum of fourteen operators in the shop. This is being represented to you as a great victory for the union although the union officials know full well that this condition can never be realized in the shops as long as the practice of sending out work to submanufacturers continues and there is no guaranteed yearly minimum period of work for the workers in the shops.

The union leaders state that the union will now be able to investigate the books of all manufacturers and jobbers. But this is nothing new Now as before the union will be able to examine only certain books of the manufacturers and jobbers and only upon a definite complaint. So that upon this point too, nothing has been won in the present strike.

These are the statements that the union officials have the effrontery to make to the cloakmakers as if they did not understand full well the conditions in their own industry, the conditions under which they have been working during the last few years and the ten demands which formed the basis and the issue of the present strike. Brothers and Sisters:

Do not let slip this opportunity to raise your voices against the betrayal which is being perpetrated strike. Now while you are still in the strike halls, now is your chance. When you have gone back to the shops it will be too late. Then you will be forced to work again under the same old wretched conditions as before without even the opportunity of raising your voices collectively against this treason to your interests. Now you can still insist on your right to prevent the officials from signing an agreement without your knowledge and consent.

"THEN YOU WILL BE VOICE-LESS AND POWERLESS!"

The union officials are using all sorts of arguments to keep you from discussing the agreement. You don't need to discuss it, they say, because it is only the old agreement with certain modifications. YOUNG SLAYERS PLEAD GUILTY; TO TEST SANITY

Crowe Calls Loudly for Leopold-Loeb Blood

State's attorney Robert E. Crowe is out for at least two hangings: Nathan F. Leopold nd Richard a. Loeb, confessed slayers of the school boy Robert Franks. Crowe wants to wear bloody feathers in his cap. He announced when the boys pleaded guilty in court yesterday morning that the change of plea made no difference to the state's case.

"They should be hanged," he said.

Crowe Would Crush Others. State's attorney Crowe would like to be as harsh to the two Polish lads. Louis Derus and his companion, both under 18, who attempted to ape the Leopold-Loeb demand for ransom These two poor boys are held in the jail for their threat to Robert Franks' sister. Their counsel has said that he could prove his young clients "insane" or at least "incompetent," if he had the millions of the Leopolds and Loebs to back him.

Crowe says that these two Polish lads are doomed. "The state has a clear case," is Mr. Crowe's cocky phrasing. And the sentence may be twenty years' imprisonment for the misguided young men who never had been able to get an education except from the streets and who have not found the profits system of capitalist society any profit to them. The pro fits have gone to the Leopolds and the Loebs, and their sons, who had so little to do that they plotted murders for thrills, set the example which incited the unschooled Polish lads to try their luck in the same way.

Court Hangers Miss Out.

Tomorrow morning the hearings on the sanity of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb will be opened. Attorney Bachrach, who is assisting Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, argued that the alienists of the defense and of the state should consult together to avoid making science a laughing stock by having utter disagreement among the doctors. Bachrach also pointed out that such action would keep most of the unfortunate details of the case out of the reach of the public and would avoid disastrous effects of other mislead young people attempting to "find out for themselves" the thrills that Nathan Leopold and Dick Loeb sought.

Darrow's move to have the young men plead guilty puts the burden of the case upon the state. The defense will only offer mitigating circumstances and will make its greatest effort in the attempt to prove the wealthy young men deranged men-

Davidow, Socialist, Joins Republicans

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, Lazarus L. Davidow, a young lawyer, is a candidate for congress in the republican primaries in the Third Michigan District (Detroit).

Davidow is important only as a sample of one of many young Americans who have drifted out of the revolutionary movement into the old political parties, joining up with the harlots of Wall Street.

Davidow was formerly a member of the socialist party. He may be yet, under the socialist alliance with LaFollette.

It is said that Davidow carries a scar, the result of an assault by the agents of the white terror, when he sought to defend the victims of the Palmer "red raids" against the terrorists in January, 1920. It was in Detroit that these raids were carried out in their most brutal form, thousands being herded into custody, "for examination," being "under Perhaps that scar mocks at Davidow in his more honest moments. Davidow remained with the socialist party in 1919, when the revolutionary exodus from the socialist ranks began. Davidow made the arrangements for the national socialist convention, held in Detroit, Mich., in 1921. Altho sympathetic to the "Committee for the Communist International" he still remained in the socialist party when this element broke away that year.

It is significant that it was at Detroit that the socialist party launched the policy that has this year delivered it into the ranks of LaFollette, the old party politician.

The youth of the socialist party were given two alternatives. They could either join the ranks of the Communist movement and continue their revolutionary activities in the world struggle of labor. Or they could remain with the socialist party, gradually dilute all pretenses to being revolutionists, and finally fade out as the counter-revolutionary allies of what has become known as "the left wing of Wall Street."

Davidow turned his back on the Communist movement. He has seen the socialist remnants in Detroit, and thruout the state of Michigan, as of the nation, gradually dissolve.

Davidow saw the socialist party endorse the republican, LaFollette, for the presidency. He has seen many socialists go over to the old parties, from William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, and chairman of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, down the list. Then why shouldn't he, also, take the same step? He did. He is now a republican candidate for congress, in the state where Newberry, the millionaire republican, bought a seat in the United States senate for $750,000.

Davidow is no isolated example. He merely indicates the tendency. The socialist party lost nearly all of its younger members to the revolutionary Communist movement. The remainder have gone the way of Davidow. And an organization without youth dies.

Such are the results of the teachings of the socialist party of Morris Hillquit and Victor L. Berger. And it still calls itself socialist.

Convention Praises His Loyalty to Workers

A resolution demanding the release from prison of Thomas Mooney was passed by the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders' convention, which has completed its work at the Hotel Morrison. The resolution demanding freedom of expression in the Bookbinders' Journal was voted down after a heated discussion.

The resolution declared:

Whereas, Thomas Mooney was convicted on perjured evidence; and

Whereas, His imprisonment, we believe, is the result of misunderstanding and miscarriage of justice. which is shattering the confidence of the common people in the courts administering same; and

Whereas, Mooney is being persecuted because he was loyal to the organized workers; and

Resolved, That this convention of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, assembled July 14. hereby goes on record instructing our delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor to use its good offices as well as all their means within their power for the immediate retrial and release of Thomas Mooney.

Speaking for the resolution, which demanded that censorship of the union's journal by international officers be eliminated, Mr. Haggerty declared: "Local Union No. 18 vigorously protests the elimination of free speech from the journal. There are some political machines in some labor unions that don't do right. The elimination of freedom of speech in the journal strikes at the first amendment to the constitution. I hold with Thomas Jefferson that liberty of expression is essential to freedom and that suppression doesn't suppress, but drives underground, and it is my sincere hope that the delegates to this convention will at least go on record as confirming what the rank and file did by a referendum vote some months ago to give the right of expression thru the journal."

MUST STAY IN LABOR PARTY. SAYS BRITON

5th Communist Congress Hears Arthur McManus

(Special to the DAILY WORKER) MOSCOW, June 25 .- (By mail.)-Continuing the discussion of the report of Gregory Zinoviev, and the question of the united front, Comrade Arthur MacManus of England spoke at the twelfth session of the Fifth World Communist Congress today.

Comrade MacManus said that it was evident from Comrade Zinoviev's report and from speeches of delegates, that the biggest problem before the International was the growth of opportunistic tendencies. There were indications of this tendency in Germany, Czecho-Slovakia, Russia, Poland, and in Great Britain. This opportunistic wave had common international characteristics, and these were the results of definite abuses in the application in the tactics of the united front. The source of these abuses was the slow development of the social revolution. The biggest task therefore, was not to chastise the parties for their past errors, but to ensure that there should be no repetition of these errors. One way of ensuring this was the preparation by the Congress of a careful, complete statement in detail, of the application of the united front to individual parties. One of our mistakes up to the present had been to assume that having made the generalization of the united front, we could rely on individual parties to interpret and apply the tactics.

Welcomes What Zinoviev Said.

Comrade Zinoviev's reference to the importance of the difficulties and problems of the British situation was welcome. The fact that it had led the delegations in their speeches to make some contributions to this problem. was an achievement. But hitherto the references had not been very helpful. There was a tendency to generalize and not to touch the kernel of the problem. The British problem was not the party's attitude to the Labor Party nor to the Labor government. These were secondary, the real problem was how to form a British mass party. This was the problem last June when the Executive of the International, and the British Party, studied the problem. The picture they then had was of the whole British working-class movement under the control of opportunist Second International leaders; the Labor party in opposition, with every probability of a Labor government; the growing tide of workers' demands, stemming the capitalist period of strikes, with the masses making de-

EMITOR'S NOTE.—This is the fourth installment from the report made by Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the Communist International. to the Fifth World Congress just adjourned at Moscow. The reading of the Zinoviev report leads to a better understanding of the daily reports of the Communist World Congress now appearing in these columns. Today's installment is as follows:

> * * * * CHAPTER IV. SITUATION AT FIFTH CONGRESS. Do We Make Slow Progress?

WHAT is the situation, now, at the moment of the opening of the Fifth Congress? Many think events are not moving fast enough? We are all dissatisfied, victory has not come; everything is proceeding far too slowly. We expected the German Revolution; it failed to come; the difficulties are great. Sometimes one gets the feeling that it is a wretchedly slow process. Subjectively speaking, this is correct. Certainly, from the standpoint of our subjective feelings, it is very slow: for we must wait for the termination of the MacDonald period in England, of the Left Bloc, in France, and of the present events in Germany.

It would really be delightful if we were marching forward at a more rapid pace. But objectively speaking, I believe that the march of events really is not so slow. It is said that when a fly is sitting on a large mill-wheel and the wheel is turning very rapidly, the fly feels as the the wheel is standing still. The same is true of us. The wheel of world history is turning very rapidly.

RESULTS OF FIVE YEARS. The results of these five years may be summed up as follows:

1. A half dozen monarchies have been overthrown; one of which is the Russian monarchy. That certainly is something. (Hear, hear!) This overthrow of Russian Czarism is of great significance for the world revolution.

We have conquered a sixth of the surface of the globe. Fivesixths remain to be won, it is true, but we have already won and consolidated one-sixth.

3. Development in Asia and in other remote regions was greatly stimulated by the war.

4. Capitalism in the most developed countries has been shaken and partly disorganized.

5. The labor aristocracy, the petty bourgeoisie as represented by the Social Democracy, has become a necessary component part of bourgeois government. This marks an advance. Certainly, they are counter-revolutionary and traitors, but objectively speaking, it is a step in advance because it is a symptom of the decay of the bourgeolsie.

6. The Communist parties have grown. We are no longer a mere propagandist society; we are developing into Communist world parties. This balance is rather meagre, it is true. We expected more; but it is not quite as bad as one is inclined to imagine.

During the past year the movement flared up in Bulgaria, in Germany, and in Poland. It is perfectly clear that it was no mere accident, but a symptom that we were between two waves of the revolution. In general, during this year, many events occurred in International politics and in the international labor movement; a labor government in Great Britain; elections in Germany, France, and Italy; a labor government in Denmark; vigorous development of the petty-bourgeois movement in America; a strike in Norway lasting half a year; dissolution of the Two and a Half International; the International Conference of Transport Workers; a strike wave in Great Britain; a railway strike in China; a strike of 150,000 textile workers in India, etc. Thus important events took place. We have not yet obtained a complete victory, but we are moving forwards.

(Special to The DAILY WORKER) BUENOS AIRES, July 21 .- The Brazilian federal government is anxiously watching the United States what action will be taken toward the revolt in Sao Paulo. Their action follows closely upon that of the California Party, which repudiated its executive committee's endorsement of LaFollette, and of the Illinois Labor Party, of which Duncan McDonald is the secretary.

The LaFollette "independent" candidacy represents "a calculated betrayal of the Farmer-Labor political movement," declared W. M. Adams, state chairman of the Missouri party. "The Workers Party is the one party which has striven consistently and valiantly for the realization of a mass party of the wage workers and exploited farmers."

It is not surprising thus to see the political organizations that were striving for the goal of a united front, now throw their support to the Communists, rather than to the middle-class movement American imperialism appears first unofficially, of LaFollette. RUSSIA IN 1924 By WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

That arch-political fakir, Lloyd George, said at least one true thing while he was in office. This was during the Kronstadt revolt early in 1921, when he said that if the Bolsheviki could survive that supreme test, the governments of the world would have to accept them and deal with them. And so it has turned out in fact. Never was the sentiment more prevalent than now that the economic rehabilitation of Europe is impossible without the participation of Russia. It has been a hard fight to force this conviction home. But the result is worth it. Already Russian exports and imports have reached 20% of pre-war figures, and are rapidly growing. The growing imports and exports are breathing the breath of life into industry and agriculture all over the country. Speaking to the Moscow Party Conference, on May 14, 1924, on the subject of the development of foreign trade, Comrade Kamenev said:

"The government export (all exports and imports are government controlled) has been so developed by us during the last year that we completely carried out the program laid down in the spring. Last year we decided upon the renewal of the export operations which had been in abeyance for 10 years. We worked out a program for the exportation of 225,000,000 poods of grain this year. We can confidently state that we will carry out this program in full, and in such a manner that we will sure knock out the American grain. In fact, we have reconquered our old position in Europe in the course of one and one half seasons."

The capitalist statesmen are looking askance at the advance of Russia through the barrier of the blockade. But they are powerless to stop it. They have tried to lay down as the basic condition for Russia's participation in world affairs, the payment of the enormous debts of the Czarist and Kerensky governments. But without avail. Although the Russians are willing to talk a lot on the subject, they refuse absolutely to pay or agree to pay. They have served notice on the world that they will not allow themselves to be ensalved and robbed of the fruits of the revolution. Nevertheless, they are being recognized by more countries and the process of breaking the blockade goes on apace. In another three years the terrible blockade, one of the greatest crimes in history, will be no more than a hated memory.

Stable Money-The Budget

None of the aforementioned problems is fully solved, but all are on the way to solution. That is the case with the breaking of the blockade, and likewise with the stablization of the ruble and the balancing of the state budget. When the Bolsheviki came into power, they found themselves under the necessity of making tremendous expenditures to carry on the war, to keep the limping industries going, et. To raise sufficient money by taxation was out of the question, so the expedient of inflating the currency was resorted to. Enormous quantities of paper rubles were issued to meet the deficit which the returns from taxation and from the state industries were unable to cover. As a result the value of the ruble went

Now the issuance of all this paper money was a vital necessity-some even declared that it saved the revolution, for essential supplies could never have been assembled in sufficient quantities otherwise than thru the sale o fpaper money. But the suffering economic system had to pay a high price for it. With the ruble on the toboggan, the building up of industry became out of the question. Accounting systems were impossible, and the peasants and other producers who had things to sell gave up the ghost rather than operate with the worthless rubles, which melted away in their hands. Hence the stabilization of the ruble early loomed as one of the pressing problems demanding solution. During the past year this has been practically accomplished. The issuance of the chervonetz, or hard money 10 ruble note, was a real achievement. It marked a crisis, in fact. The whole thing would have been a failure had the peasants looked upon the new notes merely as the old worthless ones under a new form. But the prestige o fthe Soviet government had risen so high, and the actual axhibition of the gold and precious stones held as reserves behind the new money, worked so well that when the chervonetz appeared it was at once accepted at its face value, not only in Russia but in all the money markets of the world.

For a while the government continued the debased ruble side by side with the sound chervonetz, issuing the paper money as of old to meet its debts. But during my recent visit, this dual money system, which was probably unique in history, was ended by the government cancelling all the debased rubles and throwing the entire money system on the basis of the stabilized chervonetz. Silver coins are now being issued in large quantities and will soon be followed by gold ones. Thus poverty-stricken, outlawed Russia, which does not even believe in a money system at all except as a thing necessary during the transition period between capitalism and communism while independent production lasts, was the first country in Europe able to stabilize its currency. Germany, Poland, and other countries are now following in its footsteps, trying to make their broken-backed finance systems stand up.
